CALL FOR PAPERS

Journal Modélisation et Analyse Économique (MAE)

Volume 1, Number 3 – Year 2026

About the Journal

Edited by the Laboratory and Bureau of Technical Analyses (LABAT) at Omar Bongo University, the journal Modélisation et Analyse Économique (MAE) is a peer-reviewed scientific publication available online on its official website and in print (published in partnership with Éditions L'Harmattan in Paris). It is dedicated to promoting high-level quantitative and theoretical research, aiming to consolidate decision-making through rigorous empirical evidence.

Thematic Areas

For this Volume 1, Number 3 (2026), the editorial board invites researchers, academics, and experts to submit original and unpublished articles. The journal favors contributions falling within the following fields:

- Macroeconomic and macro-financial modeling, and general equilibrium models;
- Applied econometrics (panel data, time series, spatial econometrics, threshold models);
- Structural evaluation of public policies and development aid;
- Game theory applied to economic and institutional choices;
- Development economics, with a particular interest in resource-dependent economies;
- Regional integration dynamics, climate vulnerabilities, and social trajectories.

Author Guidelines and Formatting

Submitted manuscripts must comply with strict academic standards.

- Presentation standards: The manuscript layout, in-text citations, and final bibliography must strictly adhere to the American Economic Review (AER) guidelines;
- Accepted languages: French, Spanish, or English;
- Required structure: Title, Abstract in French and Abstract in English (250 words maximum), Keywords, JEL Classification Codes, Introduction, Literature Review, Methodology and Data, Results and Discussion, Conclusion and Economic Policy Recommendations, Bibliography.

Review Process

Each submitted article undergoes a rigorous double-blind peer review by members of the MAE journal's reading committee. Acceptance criteria are based on methodological robustness, the originality of the scientific contribution, analytical clarity, and the viability of economic policy recommendations.

Publication Schedule (Vol. 1, No. 3)

- Manuscript submission deadline: December 15, 2026;
- Return of review reports to authors: December 30, 2026;
- Receipt of final revised versions: January 15, 2027;
- Publication of the issue: Late January 2027.
